We collect, use and store your answers to the questions of this survey. We use this information to answer our research question and to publish the results. To protect your privacy, we store your answers under a code. We will publish no personal data in reports and publications, only group averages.